THE GEOMETRY OF CBA 2 DESKTOP ITEMS

Annalise Fleming

RESEARCH

PRIMARY RESEARCH
I used items I found at my desk at home.

SECONDARY RESEARCH
I used google images to find a picture of a monitor.

BIBLIOGRAPHY

class ic - desk - top - computer - drawing

In this project, I learned more about how geometry is used in everyday things like my pencil storage box, monitor, and stapler. Working on this CBA helped me practice drawing these objects and thinking about the shapes that make them up. I noticed how geometric shapes like rectangles and cylinders are important in how these items are designed and work. It was fun to see how geometry is part of stuff I use every day, and it made me better at technical graphics.

THE STAPLER
THE STAPLER IS A VERY USEFUL DESKTOP ITEM, BUT IT ALSO IS VERY CONNECTED WITH GEOMETRY AS IT HAS DIFFERENT SHAPES, ANGLES AND FILLETS.

THE PENCIL AND PEN HAVE UP OF DIFFERENT GEOMETRY AND SHAPES. I DREW SOME OF THE SHAPE IT CONSISTS OF.

USE CUT TOOL, DRAW A CIRCLE WITH TWO LINES COMING OUT OF IT, AND CUT IT.

REFLECTION
I enjoyed this a lot as it helped better my knowledge with Geometry. I feel like I did well on my sketches. I can improve on my colouring/shading.

Prefects Report

Prefects

Open Evening for First Years

We had an open night for the incoming first years and the prefects were tasked with escorting groups around each floor in a co-ordinated fashion as to not cause any hold ups throughout the night. There were also two prefects going around the whole school re-directing lost visitors and hurrying up groups that were moving too slow for an optimal tour.

Canteen Duty

The main job the prefects were given for the year is canteen duty, what that entails is taking down the names of people that buy food in the canteen to make sure all purchases are accounted for.

Awareness of Juniors

As prefects, something we must do without needing to be told is to look out for the junior students and make sure that they are all ok and settled in well.

Assistance to Staff

A main part of being a prefect is the rapport you gain with the staff. By giving help when you can, at events or even throughout the school day and this is something we have all been building on.

Study skills Powerpoint

The prefects delivered a powerpoint to the 5th years to help them to learn how to study, first we split into groups of 5 and we delivered the powerpoint presentation to the four 5th year groups. The presentation contained general tips for study and subject – specific tips to help as much as possible.

This team also have plans to update some of the health posters and plaques around the school, especially the orange help line boards.
